PAUL WALDORF

Head Football Coach

Behind the Fort Hays State gridiron machine, planning new methods of attack, spotting weaknesses, and working to overcome them is Coach Paul Waldorf. Starting his third year as mentor of the "Western Kansas University," Waldorf has no easy task set before him. Although he has nineteen lettermen, including some brilliant backfield men, he is confronted with the problem of developing a line comparable to his forward walls of the preceding years. Graduation took Waldorf's strongest linemen, such as C. Mitchell, Skubal, Randall, and Sampson. The Fort Hays State mentor is faced with the necessity of filling in those gaps.

Paul began his career at Baker University, where to this day a not too old "grad," will reminisce, "Remember when Paul Waldorf played halfback." Waldorf furthered his education at the University of Arizona where he received his master's degree. For the last two years Paul has attended the summer school at the University of Wisconsin.

During his coaching experience, Waldorf had two years at Wentworth Military Academy, in Missouri. He came to Fort Hays State campus from McKendree College, Lebanon, Illinois, where he coached for three years. During the seasons of 1933 and 1935 McKendree College was runner-up in the "Little Nineteen Conference."

Under the guidance of Coach Waldorf, the Fort Hays State football squad of eighty members, about half of whom are new men, are beginning to look like a really united, cog-clicking football machine.

This year's schedule is featured with nine varsity games. One intersectional battle takes the squad to Flagstaff, Arizona, versus the Northern Arizona league. Four games are scheduled for the "B" squad.

"BUSCH" GROSS

"BILL" BEARLEY

"Busch," is a former Fort Hays State athlete, present director of athletics, and B. squad coach. Busch the man behind the sports calendar, arranges schedules, coaches basketball and is general head of the athletic department.

Gross has been coach and an instructor on the Fort Hays State campus for eight years. His record has been unusually good; during the past five years he has groomed potential championship teams that have finished high in the Central Conference standing. Gross coached formerly at Augusta before coming to Fort Hays State, which has been a continuation of the success he enjoyed at Augusta.

"BILL" BEARLEY

Bearley a former Fort Hays State graduate returned to his alma mater in 1935 to become director of physical education and assistant football and track coach. 'Bill' was a former Fort Hays fullback, his play was characterized by fine blocking, deadly tackling and line plunging; and at all times a constant inspiration to his teammates.

"Bill" is also supervisor of the intramural activities for men. These activities include all forms of recreational sports.

As assistant football coach and intra-mural director, Bearley does a very important job as he trains future grid prospects tirelessly, instituting hope in the Fort Hays State alumni for championship teams in the future.

JIM SAMPSON

Sampson is a former Fort Hays State All-Conference end. This is Jim's first year as an assistant line coach, but he is performing his duties like a veteran.

HOWARD STEHWIEN

Howard Stehwien, 190 pound center from Claflin, will act as Co-captain for this year's Tigers. Howard carries on the brilliant work of "Red" Huffman, all-state center, in such a fashion. The center place has been one of the strong positions in the line.

Howard was named in the all-conference team by Jack Copeland of the Wichita Beacon. He was handicapped by injuries last year but seems to be fully recovered this year to help lead the Tigers many vigorous campaigns.

KEITH ELDER

Keith Elder, second all-conference full back last year, will Co-captain the Tigers this year. He has been shifted to end this year to bolster up the line with his 195 pounds. He has been a great factor in the offense and defense for the last three years. He has never had to leave a game because of injury.

STATE COLLEGE TIGERETTES

The Tigerette Club and the Tiger Band are the two organizations whose purpose is to lead the student body and keep light the flame of enthusiasm. The Tigerette Club with Margie Holland as president is sponsoring the pep rallies, providing the entertainment and leading the cheering section at the games. The members may be easily identified by their gold sweaters and Tiger emblem worn on the front of their sweaters. The personnel of the Tigerettes is selected from various organizations on the campus. They usually have approximately fifty members in all. The sponsors are Miss Mae Paul and Mr. Andy Reigel.

A GLANCE DOWN TIGER TRAIL

By Kenneth Edwards '39

Hats off, you faithful fans of football! Hats off, you loyal followers of Fort Hays! All hail, you cheering Chadron cohorts! King FOOTBALL is here.

A nine game schedule looms ahead.

Nine games ahead for Tiger black and gold. Nine cheering appearances for the lustily shouting Thousand. Nine games ahead for almost half-a-thousand frosh, with half-a-thousand gold and black shields flashing on the front of half-a-thousand bright green freshmen caps. Nine appearances of the court and courtiers of old King Football. Hats off, the King is here at last!

And what could be more fitting for the opening of another glorious season of the king of college sports than a game between two such well-matched grid machines as Chadron and Fort Hays.

For the third time it is the privilege of Fort Hays to welcome the football men of Chadron Teachers to its campus. Today's meeting is the fifth between the two schools. Two were played on Nebraska soil. In the past the result has always been the same—a victory for the Tiger with "the black and gold flag flaunting."

But today there may be another answer. The winds that beat down from the North bring with them tales of a stronger Chadron grid machine. Today may be the day when Chadron victory will o'er shadow the stirring beat of "Go, You Hays Tigers."

Last year it was a Riegel-to-Stenger pass which clicked for 48 yards and a touchdown for the Tigers. This year the result may be just the opposite. That is the secret of King Football's fascination—his fickleness and his whimsies. Yesterday's heroes may be today's victims of misfortune. There are Tiger hopes tonight that such may not be the case for both ends of last year's aerial combination are again wearing the gold.

But win or lose, tonight's game is but the first of nine.

For the Tigers there are no titles to defend, no outstanding feats of last season to be duplicated—only the glory of the present to add to the Tiger record of the past.

Next week the newest member of the court of King C. I. C. Football entertains the Tigers at Atchison when Fort Hays plays St. Benedict's. This football game will not count in the conference standings but when winter breezes push the strains of "All Hail to Thee" into the Coliseum, the games with the Ravens will be conference encounters. And there will be a lot of strength at Atchison this year on both the gridiron and the court.

The longest trip of the season awaits the Tiger gridders very soon for on October 8 they play Arizona State at Flagstaff, Arizona. And the reception they will meet there will be cordial at the station but warm indeed on the playing field.

The fourth game of the season the following Saturday will find the Tigers back at home and while "Go, You Hays Tigers" rings from Lewis stadium, they will be "going" against the Presbys of C. of E. The following week another eleven from White's town will invade Lewis field when the Emporia Teachers bring a strong team here. In this first conference game of the season the Tigers will have to be at top strength and clicking well if they are to avoid beginning the title race with a defeat.

The Tigers will travel north October 28 when they invade Huskerland for a game with the Kearney Teachers, another member of the Nebraska conference, at Kearney.

And then comes the Big Game. "Wichita University (afternoon) at Hays," says the schedule. But those simple words do not tell of the struggles of the past, nor the coming struggles of the future, that the phrase conjures for Fort Hays minds. Sweet as a co-ed freshman are the Tiger victories over Wichita.

The conference schedule closes November 19 when the Tigers meet the Southwestern Mounbuilders at Winfield after a game the previous Saturday with Pittsburg Teachers at Pittsburg.

There are 18 lettermen back with the Fort Hays squad this year. But only five of these were regulars last year and it is more than possible that several newcomers will be prominent on the Tiger football scene this year.

But what does King Football hold in store for Tiger destiny?

What new heroes will be added to the Fort Hays list of Other Days? Which of these unheralded freshmen or more experienced and improving upper-classmen will rise to the heights that will put their names alongside those of Sampson, Bender, Mitchell, Skubal, Huffman, Reissig and Niewald and back father into history with those of Albert, Anders, Archer, Bahl, Bice, Conger, Welty, Gross, Mahoney, McFerren, Opdyke, Riegel and McFerren?

Which of these Fort Hays stalwarts of tonight will feel the tough of King Football's fame-giving magic sceptor? We hope there will be many.

Tonight the King has opened court.

So "Go, You Tigers Go!"

STATE COLLEGE BAND

By J. D. Sharp

The appearance of a good playing and marching band at a football game has become almost indispensable. This year the Fort Hays State College band to offer the best in music and entertainment.

The increasing interest in a good band is very evident in school. When the much needed equipment which is absolutely necessary for a balanced band is secured Fort Hays State will boast of one of the best bands in the state.

Under the leadership of Doctor Rudolph Anfinson, head of the music department of Fort Hays State, the band has shown much progress this fall. Doctor Anfinson comes to Fort Hays following a career as a great professional musician and music director, both in public schools and the University of Minnesota.

Prominent among leaders on the campus of Fort Hays State is Drum Major "Bob" Helman. "Bob" deserves much credit for his outstanding and tireless work in marching. Several assistant drum majors make up the drilling staff.

Our College band and our College wants to do everything possible to help our football team attain a successful season.
